Call for Papers

The International Association of Health Care Professionals (IAHCP)

Maintaining Challenges in Medical Practice, Family Medicine and Education

21st-24th August 2010

Venue: London United Kingdom

All Health Care Professionals are invited to submit abstract(s) of papers concerned with research and new concepts in patient care, and healthcare education, for the 21st Annual Scientific Conference of the Association of Healthcare Professionals. Staff from Corporate Member institutions are also entitled to submit abstract. Abstracts accepted for presentation will appear in the background papers for the conference, and also on the IAHCP website and in the International Journal of Medicine (IJM) and Primary Health Care Journal (PHCJ). Some submissions will be accepted as posters or demonstrations and you may indicate in your abstract, your preferred presentation method and any equipment required.

Guidelines

- Papers may address issues of concern at all stages of Primary Care medical practice, public health, patient care and education
- Research that evaluates innovations in patients' care, and education will be of particular interest to delegates
- The abstracts should indicate the main conclusions of the paper
- The abstracts should not be more than 400 words in length
- Abstract should be structured with the following headings where applicable i.e. introduction, aims, methods, results and conclusion
- Healthcare professionals from the primary, secondary and tertiary care settings are invited to submit abstracts
- Deadline for submissions is 25 July 2010

Quoted references in the paper cited in the summary should be listed at the end, and the Vancouver reference styles should be followed. Submitted abstracts would be judged on the following criteria:

- Originality
- Validity of the research design
- Importance and relevance of content of abstracts to international audience

Papers describing work in progress are eligible. Both quantitative and qualitative research papers are welcomed.

Please note that the Conference Organisers will determine allocation of presentation slots throughout the meeting.

Authors are requested to register for the meeting as delegates.

We look forward to receiving your abstracts by 25 July 2010.

Thank you.
